1/ OSTERIA 16

Technically not a trattoria, but in terms of hustle, bustle, deliciousness and hygge, it's got all the makings of one. This antipasti place is heaven. Bury yourself in the likes of oil-tossed raw scampi with peaches, vitello tonnato from Piedmont, and green beans al dente in anchovy butter. 16 Haderslevgade Area: Vesterbro

2/ FAMO SAXO

On a cobbled street near the central station, you'll find the eldest branch of the Famo fam. Expect happy chaos and an everchanging menu of regional dishes – think fried courgette flowers and buckwheat ravioli with sage butter, or tender osso bucco. 3 Saxogade Area: Vesterbro

3/ ERA ORA

This decades-long Michelin starrer is run by enigmatic duo Elvio and Edelvita, who've adorned the walls with a multitude of plates. Go for sublime wild duck, with a bergamot and lime mousse for dessert. Pasta usually makes a special cameo in their tasting menu and there's a wine cellar of over 600 vinos. 33B Overgaden Neden Vandet Area: Christianshavn

4/ PUBLIC

Marketed as a 'social Italian eating bar', this street-food graduate is tasty, simple, atmospheric and delightfully original. Owners Johan and Cindy have created a just-right atmosphere like nowhere else in the city - impressive for such a new joint. Delight over tagliata pomodorini and porcini mashed potato tart while you're at it. 36 Halmtorvet Area: Meatpacking

5/ TRATTORIA FIAT

If you find yourself at tourist vortex Nyhavn, nab a coveted backyard table at this excellent feasting spot that's all candles, plants and dark wooden floors. Order their burrata with figs and octopus carpaccio, followed by Sardinian pasta fregola and grilled dorado, then feel smug that you swerved all the lacklustre traps dotting the area (pictured). 18 Kongens Nytorv Area: Kongens Nytorv
